

MADAME BERNHARDT ON FAREWELL TOUR

WILL APPEAR AT TUCSON IN HER GREATEST ROLE, "CAMILLE."

Excursion May Go Down From Phoenix to See What May Be Her Last Appearance in the West.

The announcement that Madame Sarah Bernhardt will not appear in Phoenix after her stop in Tucson on the night of April 17th, is causing a vast amount of regret among lovers of the refined tragedy of the classic stage. It was hoped that an engagement could be secured for her in this city, but nothing has been done so far to bring her to Phoenix. This failure to present the great tragedienne in the capital city of the territory is particularly unfortunate owing to the improbability of Madame Bernhardt appearing again in the west, as her present tour is planned to be her far-west, and it is not likely that the brilliant actress, who begins to feel the weight of her long career on the stage, will come again to America.

In her one night at Tucson Madame Bernhardt will present "Camille," Dumas' masterpiece, said to be the greatest role in her immense repertoire, which includes more than twenty plays. She has been seen many hundreds of times in the part, and her passionate declamation of the stirring and tragic lines has made the play, or the part of Camille, almost exclusively her own, for no other artist has succeeded in approaching her in the interpretation of the role. Madame Bernhardt has retained the charm and vivacity of her youth as no other actress has done, and the years have left small trace on her appearance, and none whatever on her art, which is as fascinating as ever. Her marvelous aid, her rich, full voice, with which there is no other voice in the world to be compared, retains its quality and power, and the critics who witnessed her first appearance in New York acclaimed her as the same artist who was long ago given the name of "The Divine Sarah" by the play-loving public of America.

All other laundry soaps contain from 20 to 40% rosin. Rosin is unkind to clothes. There is no rosin in Sunny Monday Soap—that's why it's white. It will wash woollens and flannels without shrinking, and colored goods without fading. It works in any kind of water—hot, cold, hard or soft—and contains a marvelous dirt-starter, which saves fully half the time consumed by rubbing. The use of Sunny Monday means economy.

Arrangements will be made to have the party leave Phoenix about noon on Monday, and after the theater at night they will be able to take the sleeper for Phoenix, arriving here before morning, thus losing barely half a day from business. It is requested that those who plan to see Madame Bernhardt will make their reservations for the trip as early as possible.

A number of inquiries have been received by A. R. Gatter at the office of the Southern Pacific in regard to securing rates to Tucson on next Monday evening to see Madame Bernhardt, and Mr. Gatter states that if a party of fifteen or more desire to take the

EQUAL TO THE EMERGENCY.

An old lawyer had instructed his client, accused of theft, to weep whenever he struck the desk with his hand. In the order of his plea he forgot and struck the desk at an inauspicious moment.

His client promptly fell to sobbing with much energy, and the judge turned upon her.

"What is the matter with you?" he asked.

"He told me to cry as often as he struck the table," said the woman, lifting a pair of large dry eyes to the judge's face as she put down her handkerchief.

A laugh ran around the room, but the unabashed lawyer saw his opportunity.

"It is not possible," he said, when the laughter had subsided, "that any one here can reconcile the idea of crime with such candor and simplicity as this."

S.S.S. CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES

Health in its magnificence appeals to everyone, and especially is this true of a clear skin, free from eruptions and disease. We instinctively realize that back of this desirable condition pure, rich blood is flowing through the system, furnishing nutriment to all the tissues.

This perfect condition of the skin exists as long as the blood is normal, but when it becomes contaminated with humors and acids its supply of nutritive properties is greatly lessened, and it becomes a sharp, acid fluid which diseases instead of preserving the natural health and texture of the skin. Then come Skin Diseases; the character of the eruption depending upon the nature of the humor with which the blood is infected. If there is an excess of acid in the circulation the trouble is characterized by itching and burning eruptions. Other impurities produce watery blisters, rashes, etc., commonly known as

Dear Sirs:—My body broke out with a rash or eruption which, in spite of all efforts to cure, continued to get worse. The itching, especially at night, was simply terrible; it would almost disappear at times, only to return worse than ever. I had tried many highly recommended preparations without benefit, and hearing of S. S. S. determined to give it a fair trial and was inexpressibly delighted when a few bottles cured me entirely, removing every blemish and pimple from my body. I shall not fail to recommend S. S. ## FIGHT OF THE MOORE'S FOR CUSTODY OF CHILD

An Intimation by the Court That Possession Should Be Divided.

The fight of W. O. Moore and his former wife, now Mrs. Arthur Smith of Los Angeles, was renewed in district court yesterday morning on the application of Mrs. Moore for an order granting her the custody of her little daughter.

This proceeding is a sequel of the alleged kidnaping of the child from the home of her mother in Los Angeles about a week ago. The charge of kidnaping is denied.

At the time a decree of divorce was granted Mrs. Moore, she was given the custody of the child with a provision that her husband should be allowed to visit it once a week, and with the understanding that it was not to be taken out of the jurisdiction of the court. The husband complained that the order permitting him to see the child was persistently violated by his former wife, who interposed one pretext after another when he called. Finally Mrs. Moore left the territory with the child and it was sometime before Moore could locate her. At length, he learned that she had gone to Los Angeles and had married.

In the meantime the court had set aside the former order with reference to custody and issued another in favor of the father, who went to Los Angeles and, securing possession of the child, brought it to Phoenix.

Mrs. Moore, now Mrs. Smith, was represented at the hearing by Messrs. Hayes and Struckmeyer, while District Attorney Bullard appeared for the defendant. In the nature of things there was not much testimony. For the plaintiff, Dr. Hutchinson of Los Angeles, told of the happy life the child led in its new home, and other witnesses testified as to the relations between the defendant and his wife after their divorce. Mrs. Smith took the stand and broke down. Judge Kent took the application under advisement, but he indicated that his order would divide the custody of the little girl between her parents.

A HOTEL GREAT IN ITS DAY. Sensational innovations which travelers encountered at the Bates House. I remember that when Indianapolis became a great railroad center and a city of enormous proportions—population from 15,000 to 20,000, according to the creative capacity of the imagination making the estimate—a wonderful hotel was built there and called the Bates House.

Its splendors were the subject of wondering comment throughout the don't fret or scold—lay in a good supply of Shredded Wheat—the food that is ready-cooked, ready-to-serve—contains all the nutriment in the whole wheat grain, steam-cooked, shredded and baked a crisp, golden brown—a food that is good all the way through—tempting in its nutlike flavor—a delight to eat and to serve.

SHREDDED WHEAT BISCUIT

is without doubt the most perfectly balanced, most easily digested food ever given to man. It is not flavored or compounded with anything—not a "patent-medicine" food—not a "pre-digested" food—just plain, simple, wholesome, steam-cooked whole wheat, shredded and baked. It is better than mushy porridges because you have to chew it, thereby getting from it all its rich, body-building nutriment.

Try it for breakfast with milk or cream (hot milk in Winter). Being in biscuit form it is easy to prepare a nourishing meal with it in a few minutes in combination with fresh or stewed fruits. Always heat the biscuit in oven to restore crispness before serving. Two Biscuits with milk or cream and a little fruit make a complete nourishing meal. Your grocer sells it.
